See Joe Jonas go full Sonny Crockett in his latest music video filmed in Miami

They got the band back together.

Joe Jonas is fronting DNCE once again after a four year hiatus and we couldn't be more pleased.

Why? Because the group just shot a music video right here in Miami on Tuesday.

Joe Jonas

Jonas gave his Insta followers a glimpse of his look for the shoot. It's a cross between Don Johnson from "Miami Vice" and Tony Montana from "Scarface."

The pop star pretty much nailed it: the poofy, blow-dried '80s hair; gold rimmed shades; and a pastel pink, low buttoned shirt and white vest with chest hair poking through behind his necklaces.

Social media users weighed on his retro 305 style with lots of fire emojis.

Singer Ryan Tedder wins with his comment, IMHO: "With a look like that you and me need to open an Orange Julius on South Beach. Deal?????"

DNCE, which include guitarist JinJoo Lee and drummer Jack Lawless, will drop their collab with Norwegian DJ Kygo called "Dancing Feet" Feb. 25. They'll all appear in the video, shot somewhere in the Magic City, wearing identical white "Saturday Night Fever" esque suits.

"It's really happy. It's that feeling of not really giving a f--k and enjoying life to the fullest," Jonas told Rolling Stone of the new song. "I think what DNCE always did so well was bring joy to people, which is what I wanted to do with this new batch of music."

The former boy bander, who owns a mansion in Bay Point with wife Sophie Turner, didn't mention the ongoing COVID pandemic. But he did say that we are in a transitional period and need to get back to normal soon.

"Obviously, it's still very tricky times," he added. "But it reminds us all of being able to go out there and dance and enjoy life."

Does Crust on the Miami River serve some of the best pizza in the country? Yelp says yes.

RESTAURANTS

Miami pizza restaurant Crust was just named one of the best in the country by Yelp

Food trends come, and food trends go, but pizza is forever.

That's why Yelp just ranked the 100 top restaurants for pizza in the U.S. on its blog — and one Miami restaurant made the list.

Crust, located on the Miami River, ranked No. 71 on the list, which Yelp ranked by calculating several factors including the total volume and ratings of reviews.

Owned and operated by Chef Klime Kovaceski and his wife Anita, the restaurant opened in 2015 and doesn't limit its menu to pizza. You can also order pasta dishes and entrees as well as small plates like fried calamari, meatballs and grilled octopus.

But it's the pizzas that made Crust famous. A carnivore's dream with five layers of meat. A Tuscan chicken pizza or the Crust pizza, which comes with figs, prosciutto and blue cheese. Two white pizzas involve drizzles of white truffle oil, one with fresh tomato, arugula, shaved Parmesan and lemon juice, the other with blue cheese, walnuts, arugula and honey.

You can even be basic and order a pie with pepperoni or a Hawaiian pizza, but understand we will judge you for the latter. The pizzas run from $18.95 to $24.95.

National accolades are nothing new to Crust. In 2020, it made The Daily Meal's Best Pizzas in America list, and OpenTable named it one of the top 100 restaurants in America in 2019.

The best pizza in the U.S., according to Yelp, is Cheese Board Pizza in Berkeley, California. Can you hear the New Yorkers screaming as they read this?

Several other Florida

pizza restaurants were mentioned: Mangia & Bevi Pizzeria Napoletana in Cocoa Beach (33); Noble Crust (56) in St. Petersburg; Eddie & Sam's NY Pizza in Tampa (63); Biggie's Pizza in Jacksonville Beach (76); Carmine's Pie House (no. 80) in Jacksonville; and Cristiano's Coal Oven Pizzeria in Clearwater (96).

We could complain about two Duval County spots being mentioned while only Crust made the cut in South Florida. But we think we'll just order a pizza instead.
